

Our little Lanka is surrounded by the sea, beautiful in the light of the sun. A small pearl taken from the sky sparkles like that beauty. The smiles of our people, who carry the essence of our land, are something I cherish greatly.